TRUTH OR DRINK

MADE BY CUT

Pull up a seat, pal. You've got a choice: tell the sober truth, or drink up. By the end of the night, we'll all be better friends after asking the questions we've never dared to ask out loud. If anything, it's worth a shot.

Shuffle the deck and take turns dealing. The dealer draws a question card and assigns two fellow players to interview each other. To start the round, hand either player the question card and instruct them which question to ask.

After the first player answers or passes, the interviewees switch positions and ask the remaining question.

Answer the question, or take a drink!
Drink and you forfeit your chance at winning the round, but you'll get to guard your secret forever. No booze? Just answer—the truth is also hard to swallow.

If both questions have been answered, the dealer judges which interviewee gave the most satisfying answer, and awards that person the question card as a point. (If you're playing with alcohol, the loser takes a drink.)

Play continues clockwise—the next dealer draws a new question card, and picks any two people to answer. We trust you to be a good sport; try not to ask one person twice before everyone else has been asked once.

THIS ROUND'S ON ME CARDS:
Everyone except the dealer must answer these questions. The dealer then judges whose story is best and awards them the point. If you're playing with alcohol, all losing players must then take a drink.

3–4 players: The first to collect 5 question cards wins.
5–7 players: The first to collect 4 question cards wins.
8+ players: The first to collect 3 question cards wins.

The "With a Twist" deck squeezes a brisk squirt of additional flavor into the game. Deal 3 Twist Cards to each player at the start of the game. Players can use these cards to either redirect an incoming question to a different person, or change something about the question.

Multiple twist cards can be played in a single round! After each round, draw more Twist Cards until you have three in your hand.

Can be played whenever you are asked a question.
Can be played at any time, even during someone else's turn.

This page is the cutting template for the PDF version.

Sized for A4 paper

Each page after this is divided into nine cards. Use scrap-paper printouts of this page if you need to get the cutting figured out—since the other pages don't have lines on them.

(That way, if you're off by a little, it won't be obvious.)

If you're a fancy-pants and want to print your cards double-sided, we've included the card backs as a page of their own, at the very end:

- The With a Twist deck gets the green backs. These are gameplay cards (if you want to play with them—they're optional, of course.)

- All the other decks get the black backs. These are the decks with questions on them.

Each card is:
71 mm wide
99 mm tall

71 mm

141 mm

99 mm

198 mm

If you (or your friends) want to buy a physical copy of Truth or Drink, you can find it at:

PlayTruthOrDrink.com

along with our other game, Fear Pong.

Thanks for playing!
#truthordrink

Here's a little info about the different decks:

ON THE ROCKS:
Chill questions for mixed company—with just enough of a bite to help you loosen up together.

EXTRA DIRTY:
Cringeworthy, adult-themed questions that pair nicely with adult beverages.
NSFW—this one is all about sex in great detail. Skip printing this one if you don't want that.

HAPPY HOUR:
Only good times allowed with these feel-good questions for you and your drinking buddies.

LAST CALL:
Warning: do not play these questions unless it's very late and you've got nothing left to lose.
NSFW—there's swears in this one too.

WITH A TWIST:
Cut through the hard-to-swallow questions with these zesty, strategic twists in the gameplay. Optional!

This page also contains a few cards that didn't fit on the other pages: 55 cards per deck; 9 × 6 = only 54 cards fit on 6 pages; you can do the math.

And since we know some of you will wonder: there's no 55th "With a Twist" card on this page because that deck contains some duplicates, so we just left one of them out.
